Overview

The University of Wisconsin–Madison ranks 101 out of 257 schools in the 2026 College Free Speech Rankings with a score of 59 and an F speech climate grade. The University of Wisconsin System adopted a statement on institutional neutrality – earning the Madison campus a bonus that helped offset penalties from an attempted disruption of Ambassador Linda Thomas-Greenfield’s talk.

Policy gains aside; students report serious problems. Wisconsin places in the bottom 25 nationally for “Comfort Expressing Ideas,” and no area lands in the top 50, underscoring a campus climate where many students hesitate to share controversial views while a vocal minority remains willing to interrupt speakers.

Wisconsin could make meaningful progress by revising its written policies to move from a “yellow light” Spotlight rating to green and by reinforcing clear consequences for disrupting campus events.
