Overview

Seven Michigan schools are ranked in the 2026 College Free Speech Rankings. The state's average speech-climate grade is D-, compared to a national average of F.

Michigan Technological University ranks 4 overall and is the top-ranked school in the state. It holds a “green light” rating in FIRE’s Spotlight database, meaning its written policies do not seriously threaten student expression. It has also adopted the pro-free speech Chicago Statement. Michigan Tech is one of the top-performing schools on “Political Tolerance,” “Administrative Support,” and “Disruptive Conduct,” suggesting that students are more comfortable with controversial speakers both right and left, trust the administration to protect free speech, and are less likely to disrupt a speaker.

Michigan State University and the University of Michigan rank 60 and 105, respectively. Both schools have adopted the Chicago Statement and a statement on institutional neutrality but still maintain “yellow light” ratings. Western Michigan University ranks 168 and holds a “red light” rating, meaning it maintains at least one policy that clearly and substantially restricts protected expression.

Michigan is home to one of the nation’s highest ranked schools for free speech, but most campuses still restrict expression. Strengthening campus policies and expanding formal commitments to free speech could help raise the rankings of Michigan’s lower-performing schools.
